

Scenario: Adding a New Product to the E-commerce Website:

An admin user logs into the e-commerce website, is then directed to the dashboard, which displays various options: "Details", "Edit ", "delete", "create" etc.

Right choose the Create Option

A form appears with fields for the following information:

Product Name, product Description: A brief description highlighting features, Price, Category, quantity, Product Images

The admin fills in all details and uploads images of the product confirm the creation of the new product then

A confirmation message appears: "Product added successfully!" The new product is now listed in the products page and admins and users of system can see it whenever they want with all of its informations Like: price, name, description. Etc

Scenario: Deleting a Product in the E-commerce Website:

An admin user logs into the e-commerce website, is then directed to the dashboard, which displays various options: "Details", "Edit ", "delete", "create"

Right choose the Delete Option

The admin fills in the product ID

A confirmation message appears: "are you sure you want to delete the product!" admin choose yes then The product chosen is deleted and admins and users of system cannot see the product